

Join PRI for a “California Ideas in Action”
Panel Discussion

UNAFFORDABLE: HOW GOVERNMENT POLICY HAS SHAPED CALIFORNIA’S HOUSING CRISIS AND WHAT CAN BE DONE TO FIX IT

TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 10:30 AM
STATE CAPITOL, ROOM 126, SACRAMENTO

Join Kerry Jackson, Fellow with PRI’s Center for California Reform, and author of Unaffordable, a new PRI “California Ideas in Action” brief, for a panel discussion on California’s housing crisis.

Hear advocates, policy experts, and attorneys share their experiences on how government policy has shaped the state’s housing crisis. Learn about free market reforms that could make housing more affordable and accessible across the Golden State.

Download a copy of PRI’s new issue brief, Unaffordable, at www.pacificresearch.org.

